

A pixel art illustration of a landscape. In the foreground, a rainbow with distinct bands of red, orange, yellow, green, blue, and purple arches across the scene. The ground is composed of various shades of brown and grey, suggesting different types of soil or rocks. In the background, there are green, pixelated trees or bushes. The sky is a solid blue, featuring a large, bright orange sun with a pixelated, blocky appearance. Several white, pixelated clouds are scattered across the sky. A thin, white circular line is drawn around the central part of the image, framing the text.
