Multiple Intolerance Mounting Resistance

The Isis International Women's House has been a home for feminists, development workers, scholars and other guests especially those from the global South and traveling on a tight budget.

BED AND BREAKFAST

Well-ventilated rooms and a studio apartment with wireless internet access. Travelers can avail of:

- ◆ Healthy and culturally accepted breakfast meals
- ◆ Quiet study areas and convenient computer stations
- ◆ Kitchen complete with basic appliances and utensils

MEETINGS AND CONFERENCES

Conducive and convenient meeting and conference rooms.

The patio is also perfect for special events. Every space allows guests to have:

- ◆ Wireless internet access and other communications and logistics equipment and services such as projector, fax and photocopying services
- ◆ The choice to bring their own food or have our catering services

RESOURCE CENTRE

A rich collection of books, journals, audiovisual materials and even posters, documenting the various feminist movements as well as the development of gender studies around the world, especially in the Asia-Pacific region. The staff can also assist students and researchers in collecting materials on their subjects of study.

RECORDING STUDIO

An 8-track digital recording studio and editing services, using free and open source software.

Located at the heart of Quezon City, Metro Manila where many local and international organisations hold office, the Isis House is accessible to major public transport systems, shops, laundry services, drug stores, restaurants and banks. Moreover, the staff are friendly and willing to help in every way possible.

For more information, please call us at Tel. +632 928-1956 or e-mail Ms. Elvie Colobong at elvie@isiswomen.org. You may also visit our website at <http://www.isisinternational.org>

This Women in Action issue, "Multiple Intolerance, Mounting Resistance" surfaces the emerging and old forms of intolerance based on the intersectionality of identities, emanating from gender, race, ethnicity, age, religion, class, caste, sexual orientation, citizenship, mobility and location, among many others.

Furthermore, it highlights the mechanisms and spaces which however limited, have still enabled individuals, communities, feminist and social movements of resistance, resiliency and even empowerment.

We thank Marilee Karl, Luz Maria Martinez, Susanna George and Tesa de Vela for contributing in the conceptualisation of this issue. More importantly, we thank all the feminists and activists who have been involved and are featured in the magazine.

We wish that the insights and stories of unwavering commitment and critical engagement within and beyond the feminist and social movements will inspire many people in their own ways of struggling for equality, justice and diversity in this turbulent world.

On the cover

Multiple Intolerance, Mounting Resistance
 Even as their burdens multiply so many times, most women never fail to perform, responding to the needs of their families, communities, nations, be it in war or in peace. On many occasions, they do it in the name of their bodies, their future daughters and their fellow women. Theirs is the sometimes quiet but certainly constant performance of resistance.
