DIALOGUE

In KVINFO, we believe in dialogue.

To us, dialogue is a means of articulating and addressing the barriers to women's participation in society, to eliminate gender stereotypes, and to spur qualified debates on these issues.

The promotion of Arab-Danish dialogue is a cross-cutting goal of all KVINFO's work in the Middle East and North Africa.

This dialogue takes many forms:

- Dialogue between individuals and organizations directly involved in the partnerships, often over periods of several years.
- Interaction with other actors involved in the projects during study trips or other meetings.
- An interregional dialogue between KVINFO's various partners in the Arab countries.
- KVINFO also supports a number of specific dialogue activities such as conferences, public debates, publications, and not least articles on gender issues in KVINFO's own Web Magazine.
