

Sustainable urban development can not be achieved by governments alone, be they national or local authorities. It also cannot be left up to the private sector or the communities. Such an ideal requires cooperation among various stakeholders: national government, local governments, the private sector, civil society and many other stakeholders.

There are many other issues or problems and challenges that need to be overcome by national and local/city governments cooperation. Therefore, there are good practices and successful examples within the Asia-Pacific region, from which useful practical lessons can be drawn for better implementation elsewhere.

Speakers:

1. Mr. Thomas Melin
UN Habitat and UNACLA
2. Mr. Mulya Amri
National University of Singapore
3. Ms. Yao Yi
Guangzhou Academy Social Sciences
Institute of International Studies
4. Mr. Shahed Khan
Curtin University
School of Built Environment
5. Ms. Nayana Mawilmada
Sri Lanka Urban Development Authority

Opening Segment:

1. Ms. Lana Winayanti
2. Ms. Erna Witoelar
Kemitraan Habitat

Parallel Session 2 :

on Monday

October 19th, 2015

02.30 - 04.00 pm

Fairmont Hotel Jakarta
3rd floor, Ruby Room

Inter-Municipality and Multi-stakeholder Partnership for Sustainable Urban Development in the Asia
Pacific Region:
Urgency, Challenges and Best Practice.