KVINFO

KVINFO is the Danish centre for study of and work with issues relating to gender, equality and diversity.

KVINFO is a central gathering point for research, learning, and information about the current discussion of equality and equal opportunities – nationally and internationally.

Our activities aim at a future in which equal opportunities are a matter of shared and vital importance, irrespective of gender.

We achieve our objectives by:

- Collecting, generating and disseminating information and research.
- Activating information and research, and finding new ways to achieve genuine equality.
- Entering into dialogue and partnerships.
