Nippon Steel Corp., et. al.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | This proves that the agreement purports to deal only with existing 'property' claims and disputes affecting commercial relations between the two countries.                                                                                                                                      |
