

Political awareness of North Korean Women and Market

Hyun, InAe

Translated by | Junghyun Joy Ahn

성평등도서관 여기

GL00008848

서울시여성가족재단

Center for Korean Women & Politics

National Endowment for Democracy
Supporting freedom around the world

A person wearing a dark, heavy coat and a fur-trimmed hat stands in the center of a vast, textured, light-colored landscape. The person is looking upwards. The background is a bright, almost white, textured surface that resembles a snowy or sandy field. The overall mood is contemplative and isolated.

Political awareness of North Korean Women and Market

Contents

I. Introduction	11
A. Existing Literature	18
B. Study Purpose	27
II. Quantitative approach to North Korean women's democratic awareness and political attitude	29
A. Study Design	31
B. Result	42
III. Markets and Private Gatherings	89
A. Market Activities of North Korean Women	93
B. Private Gatherings	107
IV. Factors Affecting North Korean Women's Democratic Awareness and Attitude	125
A. Gender	127
B. Age	133
C. Level of Exposure to Outside Information	140
D. Subjective Class Identification and Living Standards	142
E. Education	144
F. Market	147

V. Promoting Change in North Korean Women's Gender and Democratic Awareness	155
A. Study Results and Implications	157
B. Measures to Raise North Korean Women's Democratic Awareness and Political Attitude	161
References	166